

Project Officer
work2health Ltd
Based in Cardiff City Centre

Overview

work2health is a consultancy specialising in employee health and organisational development. At work2health we operate as a small dynamic team of 3 dedicated and enthusiastic professionals, with high levels of support for each other. Working for work2health can offer you unrivalled personal and professional opportunities and substantial rewards. To thrive within our culture you must be passionate, committed and focussed.

As work2health continues to expand and grow it has become necessary to recruit a Project Officer to join the work2health team. The role of the Project Officer is to be actively involved in the development and management of the projects and activities undertaken by work2health.

Hours of work

Initially the number of hours worked each week will be up to 20 hours.

For more information about this exciting role please email your CV and brief personal statement to info@work2health.org.uk